Amoy Is Being Taken Over By Chinese Reds

Almost All Of China's 2,000 Mile Coast Line Now In Red Hands

THREAT GROWS TO HONG KONG

By J. L. MACKENZIE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
HONG KONG, Oct. 18.—Chinese Communists took over the huge southern port island of Amoy today and were reported virtually over-running what remains of Nationalist-held South China.

Thus, almost all of China's 2,000-mile coastline is now in Red hands and Communist forces may be ready for an invasion of Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek's island fortress. Amoy is in Fukien Province, 350 miles north of Canton, the former Nationalist capital now in Communist hands. A new threat to the British colony of Hong Kong was posted when the Communists also seized Swab Island, 80 miles to the north.

Mopping-up continues in South-Central China continued, with pockets of Nationalist resistance gradually succumbing to the Communist forces.

Yesterday, the Communists were also reported to have taken Szewu-hsien, 60 miles west of Canton in Kwangtung Province. North of Kwangtung, in Hunan Province, Communist forces were reported moving west into Kwanhsi Province, and to have reached Chanchow. This city is 100 miles north of Kweilin, where many Nationalist officials have fled.

One-hundred and 70 miles north-east of Canton, in Kwangtung Province, the Communists were reported to have entered the big Nationalist port of Swatow.

Situation Tense
Along the Hong Kong-China border proper the situation remained tense. Communist troops raised the red flag along the Chinese

On Monday afternoon a freak ear of corn was brought into the New Castle News office that somewhat resembles the shape of a human hand, four fingers and a thumb. It was among a large field of corn grown on the farm of Howard Brandon, R. D. 1, Wampum. It was the only freak ear found.

A large load of pumpkins being transported in the downtown section of the city attracted a lot of attention this morning. The pumpkins represent many potential pies, while many of them will be made into lanterns for Halloween.

Residents of the East Side were found looking out of their bedroom windows late last evening, looking for what seemed like a cloudburst. They discovered that a workman was "flushing" out the fire hydrants and the rushing water sounded like a heavy rain or storm. The work is done periodically to see that the hydrants are in good working condition.

New Castle Days Set For This Week

New Castle Days are value days. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 20, 21, and 22, promise to be the biggest bargain days in the history of New Castle and Lawrence County households.

Local merchants have laid aside regular price tags and slashed as far as possible into their margin of profit so that purchasers may reap a harvest of savings.

In order to make it easy for the busy housewife to accomplish her buying mission and yet get home in time to get Junior's and Susie's lunch, big "New Castle Days" signs have been posted on the cooperating stores windows. Every merchant participating in the event will have streamers on his large ads which will be carried in The News during these value days bearing the inscription "New Castle Days".

Forty Stores Join
Approximately 40 stores will join to make the three New Castle Days as historic an event as the visit of the Pennsylvania week train or the many other features.

New Deadlock On Balkan War

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 18.—(INS)—A new deadlock on the Balkan civil war confronted the United Nations today after Russia and Soviet-controlled Albania rejected the latest compromise settlement offer.

Russia's sudden shattering of hitherto bright prospects for Balkan peace is attributed in U. N. circles to a Soviet determination to use all available pressure to induce the United States to drop support for Yugoslavia's candidacy to the 1950 security council.

Washington, Oct. 18.—(INS)—President Truman today appointed his old enemy, former Sen. Mon C. Wallgren (D) Wash., to succeed Leland Olds as a member of the federal power commission.

Wallgren's nomination was sent to the senate for confirmation along with that of former Sen. James M. Mead (D) N. Y., to be a member of the federal trade commission, succeeding Garland Ferguson.

Appointment of Wallgren follows senate rejection of Olds for a third term to the FCC by an emphatic 53 to 15 vote.

In naming the former Washington senator and governor, the president displayed a determination to give his friend an important government job despite failure of his effort to make him chairman of the important national security resources board.

Small British Freighter Sunk; Fear 20 Are Lost

Royal Navy Aircraft Carrier Collides With Freighter In Royal Sea

CARRIER WAS BEING TOWED

(BULLETIN)
BERWICK, Northumberland, Eng., Oct. 18.—(INS)—The Royal Navy Aircraft Carrier Albion and the small British freighter Maystone collided off the fog-bound northeast English coast today and the merchant ship sank in rough seas with a possible loss of 20 lives.

One of three tugs towing the 18,000-ton warship to shallow waters said the carrier was "taking water and may require further assistance."

The "jinxed" carrier was christened by Mrs. Clement Attlee, wife of the prime minister, in May, 1947, but never was completed because priority was given to rebuilding Britain's merchant fleet.

Was Being Towed

At the time of the collision, the Albion which has not yet been officially commissioned by the Royal Navy, was being towed north to the Firth of Forth, where it was to be drydocked at Rosyth.

One of the tugs picked up three of the Maystone's survivors.

Others may have been taken aboard a British coast guard lifeboat dispatched from nearby Holy Island.

The normal complement of the Maystone was about 24.

Visibility was poor, and heavy seas and squally conditions prevailed.

Bell Telephone Rates To Go Up
Public Utilities Commission Grants Part Of Rate Boost Asked

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Business and residential telephone rates of the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Company today are slated to go up $17,964,000 October 21.

The public utility commission unanimously rejected Bell's proposal for a $25,000,000 annual rate increase last night and approved the lower figure on the basis that present rates "do not yield a fair return."

The increase will affect 1,750,000 business and residential subscribers although just how much will not be learned until Bell files a rate schedule with the PUC before October 20. The original proposal would have hiked some rates an average 77 cents a month and business telephone bills about $4.02.

No change will be made in pay booth charges nor those of long distance or out-of-state calls, the PUC said.

Bell President W. D. Gillen, of Philadelphia, said the commission's cut of the $25,000,000 schedule "falls short of the company's financial requirements."

"After taxes," he said, "the $17,964,000 increase will net the company only $10,432,000—obviously a loss."

Air Secretary Makes Answer To Navy's Attack

Strikes Back At Navy's Accusations Against Air Force In Hearings

"MISSTATEMENTS" CHARGE IS MADE

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Air Secretary Symington charged today that the Navy by attacking defense policies threatens American constitutional government and imperils "the security of the United States."

Symington offered bitter rebuttal before the House Armed Services Committee to the Navy's accusations against the Air Force, Defense Secretary Johnson, and the defense establishment.

He said that the "most disturbing feature" of the Navy's actions is "what they have done and are doing to imperil the security of the United States."

Symington struck back at the Navy's accusations against the Air Force, Defense Secretary Johnson, and the defense establishment.

He termed the Navy charges "untrue," "false," "ridiculous" and a "fallacy" in a rebuttal before the House Armed Services Committee.

But Symington said the "fundamental question at issue" was the upholding of constitutional government.

Government Is Now Expected To Enter Coal Strike

PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 18.—John L. Lewis and soft coal operators take a final fling today at negotiating a new coal contract before the government moves into the five-week-old coal strike.

Industry representatives saw little chance of an agreement that would send 375,000 striking miners back to the pits and openly forecast federal intervention in the deadlock.

A. F. L. Rejects Plan
At the same time, the United Mine Workers' Lewis was smarting under a rebuff by the American Federation of Labor which spurned his proposal to raise $250,000 weekly war chest to fight the coal and steel strikes through to victory.

AFL President William Green, in effect, rejected Lewis' suggestion that nine big AFL unions and the UMW contribute $250,000 a week apiece in support of the steel strike. Lewis contends the coal walkout cannot be settled until the steel dispute is ironed out.

Green declared that Lewis' proposal to pool labor's resources would be "impossible and impracticable" until there is organic unity of the American labor movement.

One prominent coal man said the mine operators are firmly united against Lewis' demand for contract improvements which the union estimated would cost 30 to 35 cents a ton.

Arthur Mometer

Just a ham on rye or a slice of Swiss, and a salad of succulent greens, and a glass of milk, that's plenty of food if you want to look like your teens. For as birthdays come and the years go on, there's a spread round your middle to see, so a little lunch goes a long, long way at noon for a guy like me. Did you say some ham, make that order soup, and a handful of crackers I'd say, got to keep that weight where it ought to be, it's sixty-seven today.

Mayer said he will give Auriol a definite answer tonight or tomorrow. He indicated he is reluctant to accept the premiership himself, urging that Henry Queuille, premier in the last government, be best fitted to run a centrist coalition.

Both Mayer and Queuille are members of the Radical Socialist (Conservative) party.

which are created to make this week a memorable one in our famous state. As industries are observing open house, the merchants of New Castle ask that customers visit their stores during these "open house bargain days."

Outstanding is the fact that the merchants are offering new fall and winter merchandise, much of which has just been received in the city and recently placed on the counters for sale. No shop-worn items are to be presented during these bargain days.

The merchant's committee which has been planning the special sales event for the past number of weeks reports that every store manager has promised his full support and has added special sales clerks for the three day period in order to accommodate the many hundreds who will be in the downtown section to avail themselves of the many bargains.

Any means of transportation at hand may be used by thrifty purchasers to get to the scene of the sales as long as it gets them to the stores on Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

So tie a string on your finger, circle your calendar or choose any reminder you desire but don't forget, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are New Castle Days.

ment, the ascendancy of civilians over the military. He charged that the navy's attack endangered it.

Symington declared:

Fundamental Question

"It is now obvious that the fundamental question at issue is control of the military by civilians and therefore the preservation of constitutional government."

The Air Force's civilian head said the attacks against the Air Force and defense policies began many years ago and are still continuing.

"The Air Force has been dwarfed by the larger issues raised in this room within the last few weeks."

It was in the past few weeks that the Navy, given its "day in court" by the committee, has accused Johnson and other civilian defense leaders as well as the Army and Air Force of seeking to curtail the nation's sea arm.

Symington did not specifically mention the Navy in his testimony, but there was no mistaking the object of his attack. He said claims by defense critics about the concept of war are not new. He added:

"In considerable measure they have not been accepted as the basis of national military policy and the decisions not to accept them have been deliberately and thoughtfully arrived at by the persons who have the responsibility of decision."

Refutes Navy Charges

Symington lashed out at what he termed "misstatements" about the Air Force's position.

Refuting Navy charges, he said: (1) The B-36 bomber is really an "inter-continental plane and can deliver the A-bomb against an enemy."

(2) The Air Force does not believe in the concept of an "atom" "blitz overnight war."

(3) The Air Force did not go over the head of the late Defense Secretary Forrestal in ordering additional B-36's.

(4) The Air Force is not "putting all its eggs in one basket" because the B-36 represents only a small part of the Air Force.

(5) The Air Force never said its giant six-engine B-36 was "invulnerable" because "no weapon of war is invulnerable."

Symington also hurled a new charge into the sensational hearing. He stated that "a second anonymous document," entitled the "strategic bombing myth," is being circulated throughout the country.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Claire Naughton of Boston, Mass., to Charles Anderson Bell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bell, Sr., of Waugh avenue, New Wilmington.

The ceremony was performed on October 1 at St. Columbkille's church, Chestnut Hill, Boston, with the pastor, Rev. William J. Daly, officiating.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight satin fashioned with a basque bodice hand embroidered in seed pearls and a full ankle length skirt. Her cap was of the same satin made in a broken egg shell design and her bouquet was of roses, delphinium, baby's breath and variegated ivy.

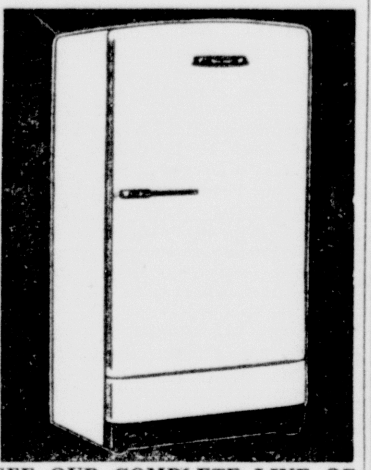

Miss Gloria Gavin of Brighton, Mass., a classmate of the bride, as her only attendant, wore a gown and cap of polonaise blue satin and carried a bouquet similar to that of the bride.

Charles S. Crocker, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., a fraternity brother and classmate of the groom, acted as best man.

Following the wedding 75 guests were received at a reception at the Philomatheia club in Chestnut Hill where a buffet supper was served. Miss Naughton was graduated in home economics from Regis college, Boston, in June, 1948, and received her Master's degree at Cornell university this past June, majoring in fashion design.

Mr. Bell attended Westminster college in 1943, and Amherst college, Mass., while in the service of the army air corps. He was graduated from Cornell university in the school of administration in the same class as the bride. He has accepted a position with the Caribe-Hilton hotel, which opens in San Juan, Puerto Rico, in December. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi and Phi Kappa Phi, national honor fraternity.

OTHER NEWS OF
COUNCIL SESSION

When council met in city hall Monday, Samuel McBride asked permission to install a Trailer court on five acres of ground along State street, or at the top of "Youngstown" hill.

He said driveways would be made to the plot, 200 feet from the highway, every trailer lot would have a sewer, a utility building would be erected. He said it would be made sanitary.

Council stated he should submit his plan in writing to the city engineer.

Council also said there are no regulations here now governing trailer courts, and added that, some of those now here are in-sanity.

Solicitor R. M. White was instructed to communicate with some other cities to find out how they regulate trailer courts.

Council received from the architects of the new city building, a schedule showing the kind of paint for the interior of the building. The schedule was prepared by an expert from a paint concern. Council authorized the architects to accept the plan which was drawn up free to the city.

Seek To Remove Gafman

Erie Railroad informed council that it was making application to the Public Utilities commission for sanction to remove gates and manually operated gates which if the petition is granted, will be replaced by short-arm electric gates at their West Washington, and Grant streets crossings. Council did not divulge what position would be adopted in regard to the request.

One Percent Wage Levy

Council read and approved the minutes of last Monday's meeting which included one, which approved the wage tax for 1950, of six mills for the first half of the year, and seven mills for the second half of the year. The school board will levy four mills for the first half of the year and three mills for the second half, thus making both levies 10 mills for the year.

Howard B. Richards was recommended by Councilman J. D. Alexander to sell to him a lot in Butler avenue, near the Schultz property. Council decided to view the lot, on which there is said to be a thicket, before making a decision.

Plan Zoning Step

Upon motion of Councilman J. D. Alexander, council approved a plan to have the Institute of Local government, University of Pennsylvania send representatives here for a conference with council, concerning new zoning for the city.

Councilmen stated they believe the city can be zoned by this organization cheaper than by other concerns. Council agreed to pay the expenses of the representatives.

Council approved an expenditure of $25, for sodding of the turf at Sylvan Heights Golf course.

Councilman J. D. Alexander having informed colleagues the sodding would cost that amount.

Sell Old Aerial Ladder

Upon motion of Councilman J. D. Alexander, the obsolete aerial ladder truck at Central fire department was sold to Domenico Ross at his bid of $100, it being the highest offered. Rich & Freed offered to pay $75, and David Malinak, $75.25. The ladders cannot be used with safety, the truck is considered obsolete, and room used for its housing is needed, the officials pointed out.

Request made by Harry M. Tanner to lay a 190 foot water line to his Hamilton street property.

The excavation would be in the Sycamore-Cascade Boulevard district. Council will view the section before permission is granted.

Want Bus Stop

Frank Spornano, South Croton avenue, asked council to have a bus stop made at South Croton avenue and south Mill street. He explained in his communications the advantages for such a stop. Councilman James Gibson reported that years ago there was a stop at this corner which was eliminated during the war.

Haven, Finance Director Albert Hoyland and assistant to the solicitor Robert Jameson, were authorized to attend the fourteenth annual conference of Municipal Finance officers which will be held at Penn State college, November 18-19. Assess Old City Building—1949

Council has referred to Solicitor Robert White the assessment made by the county of Lawrence on the old city building which was sold to Martin Berger, and which is now being rented by him to the city. The city will not surrender occupancy of the structure until the new building is occupied.

J. L. Strobel, Public Workers representative, wrote council asking their consideration of requests by street workers be given when the budget for 1950 is arranged. The communication asked a 20 percent increase in wages, five paid holidays and 30 days sick leave. The communication was referred to committee.

V. Graziano today requested council to sell to him a lot in Butler avenue, near the Schultz property. Council decided to view the lot, on which there is said to be a thicket, before making a decision.

ROBERT LESURE (right), 21-year-old son of a wealthy Ashfield, Mass., sugar farmer, enters court with state trooper to plead "not guilty" in Sept. 9 slaying of his younger brother, Walter, 18. Progress Shown In Art Classes At Croton School

Exhibit Of Work Done Over Past Few Weeks By Pupils In Progress At School

Croton district boys and girls are very artistically minded.

Work done by the pupils in their art classes over the past few weeks under the direction of Mrs. M. N.
Brown at Croton school shows real ingenuity and skill. Samples of the work done by the hard-working youngsters are on display at the school building this week with the finished products covering the whole second floor hallway of the school.

Paper-mache work of the boys and girls shows real artistry, with such animals as rabbits, ducks, piggy-banks and others being formed. The base of the creations are designed on a special form and then covered with velvet or cotton. Many items carved and sawed out of wood including tables and wheel toys are included in the exhibit.

Fifth and sixth graders have produced many stuffed toys covered with oil cloth. One bright youngster has made a milk bottle doll, filling the bottle with sand and dressing it, even outfitting the bottle with a pair of "specks." The stocking dolls are also quite clever.
For education week, which is soon to be marked, souvenirs in the form of decorative pins have been moulded and created by the pupils for their parents when they visit the school.

A beautiful oil painting made by Patty Hileman and her mother adorns the second floor walls. The painting is an outdoor scene with snow on the ground and a lake near by. Terry Gibson, a young third grade artist promises to be one of the up and coming artists of the city if his excellent drawings are any criterion. To complete their settings the youthful artists have drawn large posters which will adorn the outdoor display panel during the next two months.
The pupils have likewise made a large box beautifully designed to receive collections for the community chest at a special program
Wednesday morning.

North Street Pupils Get Reading Awards

Honors Received For Books Read
By Children During Summer Months

Vacation Reading club awards were made to North Street school pupils at an assembly program in the school Monday by Mrs.
Walter McKee, children's librarian of the Free Public Library.

Boys and girls who read books through the summer had the names of the books they read recorded in booklets which they had made, and there were 12 students who read from 10 to 12 books, for which they received buttons. Ten read from 10 to 20 and those students were given certificates. Three pupils read over 20 books and were awarded certificates with gold seals.

Receiving the special gold seal award were Donald Mottern, with 40 books read, Evelyn Druschel with 26, and Joyce Sullivan with 24.

Tom Perdue, Alex Kelly, Harold Levy, Virginia Fabian, David Stewart, Dick Ungar, Norma
Dolph, Duane Hambrick, Patricia Jean Jordan, Janet Smith and Dorothy McAllister received buttons.

Certificates were awarded to Shirley Hester, Ronald Wimer, Curtis Drake, Claudette Crabill,
Susan Russell, Lorraine Wrona,
William McFall, Leroy Brenneman, Eugene Brennehan and Janice McIlrort.

Mrs. McKee told the story of the "Pumpkin Giant," and to bring the program to a close Arthur Walker, principal of the school, gave the students a short talk. He announced that a similar reading program would be followed next summer.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Distributed By International News Service)

VENICE, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Everything about this dream city is topsy turvy. The principal "streets" lamps are set in the middle of the great lagoon, at the end of the grand canal, to regulate water traffic.

The fire trucks are bright red, as befits a fire wagon, but they are large, swift speed boats easily maneuverable in Venice's main streets, which are all canals.

And if a Venetian is sick enough to go to a hospital, he calls the Red Cross ambulance, which is a fast speed boat with an ambulance chassis. If the ill man is too sick to walk to the nearest pier, then he must be carried on a stretcher through Venice's narrow streets and alley-ways to the water ambulance.

City Of 300,000
This is the city of 300,000 souls where one is never awakened by the snarl of taxi horns or the road of traffic, because there is none. There is not a single motor car in Venice proper although there are a handful of cars and a few buses on the swank Lido, a Venetian suburb across the wide lagoon.

The only "street" noises in Venice are the loud and anguished cries of the gondoliers as they quarrel among themselves. Even now the gondoliers are girding themselves for their annual fray with Sinclair Lewis, who, from his apartment in the Gritti Palace Hotel, screams down maledictions upon them when they awaken him at night and sometimes even silence them—for ten minutes.

Venice is accustomed to celebrities. Its visitors this year have varied from Princess Margaret Rose, to Barbara Hutton at the Lido. Excelsior to Thomas E. Dewey at the Grand Daniell, once the noble residence of a doge of Venice.

Three Hotel Help Into Tizzy
On arrival at the Daniell, Mr. Dewey threw the hotel help into a tizzy by ordering six large bottles of mineral water and no whiskey to go with it. The waiter who delivered the six bottles of sparkling water to the Republicans' last standard bearer, returned to his station, shrugged his shoulders fatalistically and reportedly said: "He lost an election, but must be drowsy himself."

America's five-and-dime heiress is a bit of a legend in Venice. During her marriage—to Prince Alexis Mdivani—she bought a palazzo on the Grand Canal. But she divorced Mdivani before she ever lived in it, and the palazzo went to him as part of the divorce settlement.

Mdivani was killed in an auto accident in Spain. Then the American heiress began having difficulties not only with a succession of husbands but with her health. And finally, former King Michael of Romania spent a season in the palazzo just before he lost his throne.

Place Of Ill Fortune
Now the palazzo is known as the place of ill fortune, and is pointed out to American tourists along with the historic palaces that line the canal.

The Anglo-Saxon nose and sense of sanitation are oft affronted by the aroma of the Venetian canals, compounded of sewage and garbage. But certainly to the outward eye, Venetians are as healthy as other peoples, and certainly they live as long.

For myself, I am so bewitched by this city that I drift along the canals at twilight in perfect content. The rich odors of Italian cooking fill the air and the rich incidents both happily on the surface of the water, here an onion, there a half head of lettuce, yonder an artichoke and further along, a chianti bottle floating peacefully out to sea.

Me, I side with the Venetians who are within their rights when they invite people who don't like the way the canals smell to go back where they came from.

TAYLOR BROWN

NUPTIAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brown are residing in their newly furnished home at 262 West Falls street following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canadian points.

They were married on October 7 at the St. Luke's A.M.E. Zion church with Rev. D. T. McIntosh officiating at the impressive double ring ceremony before a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Brown was the former Bernice Naomi Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Taylor of West Grant street. Mr. Brown is the son of Ernest Brown of Butler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the traditional gown of white satin with a marquise yoke, long tapering sleeves and the full skirt featuring lace inserts, terminated in a long train. Her veil of illusion caught to a headress of pearls was edged with dainty lace. She carried a bouquet of roses and mums, and her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, gift from the groom.

Miss Eleanor Taylor, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Misses Rowena Watkins, Donna Owens, Dorothy King and Georgia Petri. Junior bridesmaids were Colleen Owens and Deloris Webber. They all carried bouquets of roses and mums. Flower girls were Marian Webber and Phyllis Taylor. Walter Lee Smith was the ring bearer.

Charles Brown, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Robert and John Waters Jr., Howard Yellock and Raymond Taylor. Mrs. Mary Webber presided at the organ and was accompanied by Rev. Payden, soloist who sang "Because." "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church social room, which was decorated in pastel colors and fall flowers, for 150 guests.

Mrs. Brown is a graduate of New Castle High school and is employed by the Shenango Pottery company. Her husband is employed by Chambers Motor company.

PROBLEMS OF THE GROOM'S MOTHER

"My son will soon marry and as his Mother I would like to know (1) What to say to my daughter-in-law when I congratulate her on her wedding day. (2) What do I have to do at the reception? (3) Who gives the bachelor dinner and when?"

Answer: Kiss your new daughter-in-law and tell her how happy you are that she is now a member of your family. Do not use the word "congratulate" which is reserved for that "lucky man" the bridegroom.

(2) At the reception, you are merely a guest and have no duties other than being gracious.

(3) The bridegroom gives the bachelor dinner to his attendants—the ushers and best man as well as to as many of his friends as he cares to invite. It usually takes place some time during the week preceding the wedding.

Question: A co-worker is to be married soon and I wish to give her a shower. I have never met her mother. Must I invite her? Besides my contribution toward her gift at the office and my gift at the shower, is a wedding gift a must? I am going to both the ceremony and the reception.

Answer: It is customary to invite the bride's mother to the shower. Even though you have never met her, you should extend this courtesy to her. If your "contribution toward her gift" is toward a wedding gift, that will suffice. If your name will not be on the card, you must then send a gift. A gift is essential if you are invited to the wedding whether or not you attend. If you are a special friend invited for that reason to the wedding and the others in the office are not invited, you should give a personal gift rather than contribute toward an office gift.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

No overtime pay for Mother!

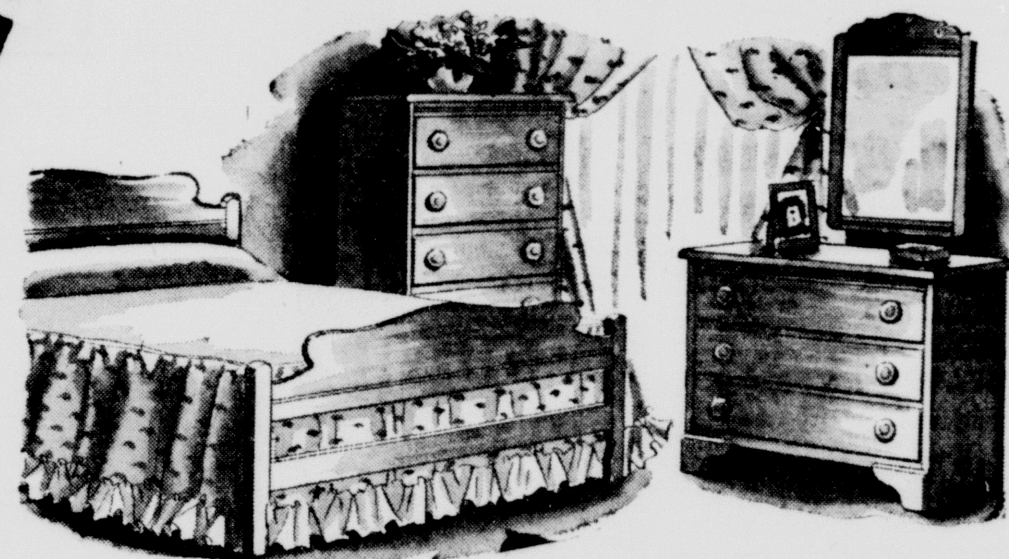

There's no O-time pay for Mother, no vacation, holidays, or overtime pay. Because running a family is a full-time job.

That's why electricity is just like another pair of hands for the homemaker. Around the clock and around the calendar, electric service is working hard to make life easier for Mother—healthier and more comfortable for the entire family.

Yet electricity costs so little! Matter of fact, it's the only worker that gets paid less for overtime. That may sound strange, but it's true. The more you use electricity, the less it costs for every task it does for you. There's no other item in your family budget that gives you so much real living value—for so little cost.

ROUGHAGES CHEAPEST SOURCE OF NUTRIENTS

Roughages, cheapest source of nutrients for dairy cattle, figure largely in any sound dairy feeding program. Leading Lawrence county dairymen make a practice of giving their cows three to five times daily all the good quality hay they will clean up.

This saves grain feeding and gives the cows the kind of feed best suited to them. Silage can be used to good advantage also in a winter dairy feeding program. If good-quality hay is available corn silage may be limited to 25 to 30 pounds daily. Or if hay is another "must" for the dairy herd in winter as well as summer, drinking cups are best. Ample fresh water boosts milk production.

Salt, another important factor in the dairy ration, can be supplied in the form of blocks in the barn or shed, or added to the feed as it is mixed on the farm. Plenty of fresh water at all times is another "must" for the dairy herd in winter as well as summer. Drinking cups are best. Ample fresh water boosts milk production.

KEEP CHICKS WARM IN COLD WEATHER

Good housing and ample floor space are necessary if fall and winter chicks are to be reared successfully.

Whether they are to be grown out for meat or as egg producers, these chicks require housing, feeding, and management which will promote good growth and health. They will be confined to the house a major portion of their lives and so ventilation, floor space, and litter conditions are closely tied to health and growth.

The house should be draft-free. That means tight walls, floor and roof. It should also be vermin-free. Make a careful check for mites and close up rat holes. A simple ventilating system, such as is provided in the Penn State brooder and laying house, can be installed readily in most buildings to be used for brooding.

Floor space can and will affect the rate of growth. Crowding will mean poor, uneven growth and may provoke disease problems and cannibalistic vices. For complete confinement allow one-half square foot per chick at day-old age.

Increase this to one square foot per chick at six weeks and to one and one-half square feet at 12 weeks of age. If chickens are to be reared to laying age or till roaster weights, then floor space must be gradually increased to somewhere near the adult requirements of 3½ to 4 square feet per fowl.

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—John Lund, a handsome, bright, gifted, dreamy sort of actor, hates being described in that fashion.

"How," he asked, "can I take myself seriously? I just look into the mirror and there's the truth." Moreover, admitted the ex-radio writer and actor, most of the gals who call him dreamy are under 16. It is also this group which peppers him with proposals of marriage—via the mails.

"I wish you would give the world this message for me," Lund said the other day on the set of Paramount's "The Life". "Tell the world I'm married. I'm no heart throb. Tell the folks I'm sure happy they pay dough to see my movies, because if they didn't I'd be out of a plush job. But honest, chum, I ain't no heart throb."

It's strangely enlightening to analyze qualities which go to make up the popular American heart throb. How many wrestlers get the reception accorded bantam-weight Frank Sinatra by the girls? Gable's anyone's idea of a he-man hero, but Clark's ears are oversized. One James Stewart has the physique of a lamp post—but he has all the girls gaga.

Lund actually has a fine physique. Moreover, his brains don't rattle and he could earn a living doing any of a number of things. He has a lackadaisical suaveness that even a blacksmith likes.

No Swooning

When the script of a recent film called for Lund to reduce an unmarried damsel to a state of doting surrender with just one kiss, John rebelled.

"Ask my wife," he invited the producers. "She'll tell you its an impossibility. Why, I had to work on her for over a year before she'd marry me, and she doesn't swoon when I kiss her."

Nonetheless Lund enjoys putting his signature on the back of that weekly paycheck, and he intends to keep banking, as long as he can.

He passed up college for a career writing direct-mail advertising. Then he went into radio writing. Then on to the stage in such plays as "The Hasty Heart", which led to Hollywood.

You'd think Lund would be satisfied with his present happy state. After all, it isn't everyone who can make love to Barbara Stanwyck—and for pay. But no, his ultimate ambition is yet to be realized doting surrender with just one kiss. "I want to carry Ted Williams' bat in some world series," he confided.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

ASHBURNHAM, Mass.—A nervous motorist who loudly proclaimed his sobriety while reporting seeing a monkey climbing a roadside tree was reported by police. They assured him they didn't suspect him of drinking. The monkey escaped from a nearby farm and was recaptured, thanks to the motorist's directions.

Deaths Listed As Murder, Suicide

Dual Tragedy Occurs In Norris-town Area: Shooting At Girl's Home

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 18.—(INS)—Police today listed the deaths of a lovesick merchant sailor and a pretty brunette factory worker as suicide and murder.

Coroners' reports indicated that Elmer Hallman, Jr., 25, of Phoenixville, Pa., fatally shot himself after putting four bullets into Evelyn Shronk, 26, of Mont Clare, Pa.

The shootings occurred yesterday in Miss Shronk's home. The girl's mother, Margaret, told police Hallman entered as her daughter was washing supper dishes.

Mrs. Shronk said the seaman began questioning Evelyn about her having other dates and became enraged when she admitted that she saw other boys.

According to Mrs. Shronk, Hallman drew a .32-caliber German automatic pistol and began firing. The girl died instantly and Hallman succumbed two hours later in a Phoenixville hospital.

State police reported that the seaman had been in love with Miss Shronk for about a year and was "violently jealous" of her other suitors. His ship recently put in at Baltimore for repairs.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Police today investigated the death of Mrs. William L. Batt, Sr., 62, wife of a leading industrialist, under the wheels of a Philadelphia subway train.

Rescue squad firemen said the victim apparently toppled to the tracks from a "cat-walk" near the city hall station yesterday.

Batt, president of SKY Industries, Inc., expressed belief his wife might have fallen in a faint. He said they had been planning a vacation in Hot Springs, Ark.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Batt is survived by two sons, Robert, an attorney, and William L. Jr., special assistant to Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin, and three married daughters.

Batt, who became SKP president in 1923, served during the late war as vice-chairman of the War Production Board. He and Mrs. Batt were married in 1909.

Funds Provided For 58-Group Air Force For Nation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(INS)—The House today swiftly approved and sent to the Senate the 15 and one-half billion dollar military appropriation bill containing funds for a 58-group air force.

The 58-group agreement was reached by Senate and House conferees last night. The Senate had supported President Truman's stand for an air force of 48 groups, but gave way in the face of House insistence.

The move is a step toward creation of a 70-group air force by 1954.

Almost all of the debate in the House was limited to protest against a "compromise" reached on a cut in funds for the stock piling of strategic materials.

The Senate originally voted a 274 million dollar cut and the House demanded that no slash be made. The deadlock over the issue was broken when the conferees agreed on a 100 million dollar reduction.

Industry Division Leads Chest Drive In Monday Reports

Industry division, headed by A. K. Schmidt, made the largest contribution in the first report meeting of the New Castle Community Chest Monday noon at The Castleton. This group reported a total of $11,246, 55 per cent of the first report sum, $20,677.

Men of the Johnson Bronze were the largest contributors to the industry fund. Les Johns of that organization reported a total of $3,400. The industry division has a goal of $41,000.

Three Miss Report
The three divisions that did not have a report ready for the Monday meeting are Commercial, Public Employees, and Rural. None of these divisions had a representative present but it is anticipated that they will have an encouraging report at the next meeting.

Public service employees headed by H. D. Choate are in second place in division standing as a result of a $7,609 report Monday. Women's sales had a total of $1,120. Mrs. Ethel Rentz Ferver and Mrs. James Moorehead are co-division heads.

The fourth division reporting was Men's sales under Dan Treloar. This group has raised $821 to date.

Postpone Meeting
Most of the workers and team captains present at the Monday session expressed the belief that a more satisfactory report meeting could be achieved on Friday rather than Wednesday as originally scheduled. Arrangements were made for the Friday meeting to be at The Castleton at 12:10.

Chairman Matthews said today that he is anticipating a report from all divisions at the next meeting. He advised the workers to maintain their confident enthusiasm and asked all citizens to make their contributions soon enough so that these 13 agencies can continue to do their good work that benefits the whole community.

Do you really know your Sunoco Dealer?

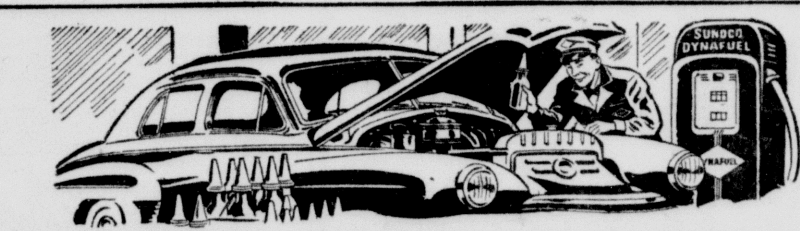

SURE, you know he's the man at the Sunoco Station—the friend you count on for good service day and night... but maybe you don't know all that it takes to make this possible. His work, his money and his future are in his business. He's one of over 6,500 men who choose to sell Sunoco Products over all others.

1 HE owns his own business and in 7 out of 10 cases, the station is his. If he rents from us, the rate he pays is in line with the rent other merchants in his community pay... and the type of facilities he operates. But whether he rents or owns his station, he uses his own money to stock it with the gasoline, oil, accessories and tools he needs to take care of your car.

2 HE has a definite responsibility to serve you and your neighbors. We strongly believe that a good dealer is a community asset and within a reasonable area he is our sole distributor. If you think his hours are long, so does he. But that's the business he's in—service to you from early morning to late at night.

3 HE sells what we both believe is the finest high test gasoline on the highways. He also sells the motor oils that research and road tests prove work best for all driving. And, to satisfy all kinds of demands and pocketbooks, we package these oils in a variety of containers to fit the motorists' needs.

Our dealer contract does not prohibit the sale of competitive gasolines and motor oils. But, feeling that it is not possible for a dealer to endorse two competing items with equal enthusiasm, we have made it our policy to select those dealers who are enthusiastic about our products.

5 HE decides what hours to keep his station open, how many men he needs to do it and the pricing of merchandise so as to be competitive and give you what you want when you want it. We often make joint surveys to help him arrive at these decisions.

6 HE has found you like to do business at attractive stations where there are courteous attendants. He keeps his men in neat uniforms and sees that his place is clean and his service up-to-date.

4 HE fully realizes the advantages to himself and his customers of every Sunoco station offering the same lines of accessories and generally elects to buy these items from us rather than from other sources. We offer him a complete line of nationally advertised and competitively priced tires, batteries and accessories best fitted to meet your driving needs. But our contract does not prohibit his handling lines of his own choosing.

Armistice Day Dinner Plans Being Advanced

Chairman E. Gene Schweinsberg Expects Cohling Event To Be Outstanding

New Castle's annual Armistice Day dinner for the veterans of all wars, which will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 10, shapes up as one of the most outstanding in the long history of these dinners, and General Chairman E. Gene Schweinsberg states that a fine program is being arranged for the occasion, which will be a little out of the ordinary.

Present plans call for the dinner to be held in the Legion Home, with turkey and all the trimmings, and plenty of it to be served. After the dinner, the Barber Shop quartet will render selections and there will also be some surprise entertainment, which is being arranged for the occasion.

Tickets are ready for distribution and will be placed on sale with the various veterans' organizations or reservations can be made through Jimmy Fletcher, the secretary. Reservations must be made by November 7.

Any war veteran is eligible to attend this event, which was started as an annual custom shortly after the close of World War I and is to some extent a "Last Man's Club" dinner.

Oleda Schrottky Girl Scout Leader Conference Guest

Humorist, lecturer and story teller, Miss Oleda Schrottky, is one of the outstanding women in America who can speak with humor and authority on the problems of young people.

It is for this reason the Girl Scout leaders of Western Pennsylvania feel fortunate in securing Miss Schrottky for the leadership training conference at the Cathedral, Saturday, October 22.

Miss Schrottky will speak at ten in the morning as the keynote of the all day conference. Girl scout leaders and all interested in the scout movement will attend specialized training sessions, as well as seminars, and a noon luncheon. Miss Schrottky altered her planned itinerary so that she might appear here for the first meeting of this type to be held in New Castle. Representatives of 13 western Pennsylvania councils will attend.

Miss Schrottky was born in Appleton, Wisconsin. She has traveled in Europe and all parts of the United States. She studied at several institutions in this country and overseas. She has acting experience with the Provincetown players and was a speech instructor at Mt. Holyoke college. The leadership conference will open at nine in the morning with Miss Margaret Sutton of New Brighton in charge. A seminar at 3:30 in the afternoon will conclude the session.

Humane Society Battles Attempt To Take Animals

Outlines Menace Of Pet Seizure Legislation At 73rd Annual Convention

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—(INS)—The American Humane society today mapped strategy for a state-by-state battle against legislation that would surrender small animals to medical institutes for experimental purposes.

The society, holding its 73rd annual convention in Detroit Monday night heard a prominent California member outline the menace of pet seizure legislation to the humane movement.

Charles W. Friedrichs, director-secretary of the California Humane association, declared: "I am opposed to any legislation which would force surrender of animals from shelters or public pounds for purposes which are not for the direct benefit of the animals involved—and I include the forced surrender of animals for experimental purposes."

Two Local Firms Hit 100 Per Cent In Chest Drive

Two New Castle firms reported today a 100 percent participation index for their employees in the 1949 Community Chest campaign.

New Castle Water Company was first to report a subscription of 100 per cent. Forty-eight employees of that organization contributed a total of $225.

J. A. Palko Mirror Manufacturing Co. also has a participation index of 100 per cent for both shop and office workers. Thirteen employees of the mirror-making establishment contributed $56.50.

These two business establishments were not only the first to reach the 100 percent figure but they also showed a great increase over last year's contribution. Both of the trail blazers showed more than a 100 percent increase. The mirror workers upped their donation to the 13 agencies by almost 400 percent.

The second report meeting in the campaign to raise $127,350 will be held Friday at the Castleton. It is anticipated that other New Castle organizations can join the 100 per cent club at that time.

For Outstanding Service

This is a picture of the Pennsylvania Ambassador plaque which will be awarded to Mrs. Spencer Tracy by Governor James H. Duff, in this city, Thursday, October 20.

Mrs. Tracy, the former Louise Treadwell of New Castle is being awarded this plaque in recognition of her work among deaf children.

Some years ago she became convinced that children born deaf were not necessarily "dumb". She proved this in her own family and then started work among the deaf children of Los Angeles. Today the John Tracy Clinic is located upon the grounds of the University of Southern California and is not only serving deaf children of Los Angeles but conducts a mail service with women of deaf children all over the country.

Pennsylvania Ambassador awards are made to former Pennsylvanians who have made a success in various lines of endeavor in other states. Mrs. Tracy well merits the award as the New Castle representative to become a Pennsylvania Ambassador.

Wednesday at noon she will speak to a joint service club luncheon in the Castleton Hotel. On Wednesday night she will address a public meeting in First Presbyterian church at 7:45 in which she will describe her work.

Princess Elizabeth Deplores Relaxation Of Moral Standards

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Princess Elizabeth, speaking in the role of wife and mother, deplored what she called the present age of "falling moral standards" and its disregard for the "sanctity of marriage".

The heiress to Britain's throne addressed the union of mothers at Central Hall Tuesday and applauded the organization's efforts to uphold the old standards. She said: "Some of the very principles upon which the family was founded are in danger."

"When we see around us the havoc which has been wrought, above all among children, by the break-up of homes we can have no doubt that divorce and separation are responsible for some of the darkest evil in our society today."

U.S. Navy To Bring Refrigerated Art To United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(INS)—The Navy is going to bring 18 million dollars worth of refrigerated art to the United States.

The Austrian Imperial art collection is being brought from Vienna to Washington for display at the National Gallery October 20. Included in the collection are paintings by Rembrandt, Rubens, Van Dyke, Titian and others.

The shipment is being made in the navy refrigerator ship Malabar so that the paintings can be kept at a constant temperature to avoid deterioration.

Russia Returns Nine Warships

Pennsylvania Shop Workers Voting On Union

National Mediation Board is conducting an election for all power-house employees and railway shop laborers of the Pennsylvania Railroad, as of April 1, 1949, in an effort to determine the bargaining agent.

At the present time the Pennsylvania railroad is represented in various divisions by both the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

This election which started Tuesday by secret mail ballot will continue until November 7, 1949, is to decide which labor union will be its representative. The results will affect the entire Pennsylvania railroad system, insofar as the bargaining agent is concerned for the crafts included.

The official count for the referendum vote will take place at the headquarters of the National Mediation Board, in Philadelphia, Pa. Frank K. Switzer is the mediator, however results of the entire vote will not be known until after November 7.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH SAYS NOTED AUTHOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Practice makes perfect, best-selling author Russell Janney admits. But, he added plaintively today, enough is enough.

Janney, one of the jurors in the marathon Communist trial, heaved a sigh of relief when the nine-month hearing ended last Friday, leaving him free to return to his writing and producing.

Yesterday, the author of "Miracle of the Bells" received a summons to report on Nov. 7 at New York City court—for jury duty.

Tragic If People Decide On Welfare State—Humphreys

'Pennsylvanian Of Year' Warns
Business To Be More Human
To Avert Controls

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Harry E. Humphreys, Jr., president of United States Rubber Co., declared Monday that it would be "tragic" if the American people decided they would be "better off under a welfare state."

Humphreys, accepting a Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce award as "Pennsylvanian of the year," warned business to be more "human" to avert further government control. He added:

"While we have done so much for mankind by turning out products for better living, we have done relatively so little in the field of human relations."

Vote For Controls

"The result has been that more people have decided—and voted—that they would be better off if the government controlled more things."

Humphreys, a native of Philadelphia, said that "we, as individuals, are fooling ourselves."

"We think," he asserted, "that because Uncle Sam has swapped his high hat for a fur-lined cap with a tassel and has rounded off his whiskers that he has in his bag all the gifts we shall ever need for bodily contentment and peace of mind."

"We forget that the government has nothing of its own, that whatever it gives to some, it first must take from others. We forget that gifts, no matter how they may glitter, have no real value unless they reflect freedom's light."

Battle Of Year Looms Friday Night On Stadium Turf

New Castle head coach Phil Bridenbaugh lost little time Monday as he started preparing his gridders for the big game of the season Friday night with Har-Brack at Taggart Stadium.

The undefeated Red and Black donned the moleskins and started offensive drills in the first practice session following the 13 to 0 win at Farrell. They reviewed blocking assignments against a six, seven, and eight man line.

7 To 0 Last Year

In damp going last year, Har-Brack held New Castle to a 7 to 0 victory using a well-shifted and well rehearsed eight-man line against the strong ground game of the Canes.

Har-Brack, also undefeated, may use the same tactics again this year, but has not done so against any of its five opponents to date. Bunching them up in the front line may stymie the Hurricane this year but the move will come as no surprise.

Mitchell Charles was in the passer-back post yesterday in place of the injured Charles Mancine. Dante DeFalco appears to be the choice to replace Tom Mangino, another Farrell casualty, at tackle.

Brown Top Coach

Har-Brack is an abbreviation for Harrison-Brackenridge consolidated schools near Tarentum. The Green and White Tigers have played New Castle four times and have won only once. However, since Neil Brown took over the head coaching chores, Har-Brack has a one and one record. In 1944 the Friday night visitors downed the Hurricane 13 to 9. Last year, the WPIAL champions had their toughest game of the season with Har-Brack and managed to win 7 to 0.

Head coach Brown is a young man whose future in the coaching profession seems as bright as any young coach in the district. He is breaking up a ball game at any minute and he is Har-Brack's ace in the hole at all times. He gets lots of extra yardage by faking a hardoff after receiving a punt or kickoff to his running mate Cherrnik. Of course, it is not always a fake and both men must be covered.

Powerful Fullback

The real power on the team is supplied by Ray Pszczikowski, fullback. This boy really hits a line and slams through into the secondary regularly for big extra gains. Witnesses of the Har-Brack game have been amazed at the poise of the Big Green and excellent condition of the team.

No one should concede a thing about the game until 8 o'clock Friday night. It certainly shapes up as the top home attraction in several years with first place standing in the WPIAL going to the winner. Pittsburgh sports writers have established the Har-Brack eleven as slight favorites for the game because of five straight wins by impressive margins. New Castle on the other hand has had plenty of trouble in vanquishing several opponents and now has an injury problem.

a native of Jamestown, N. Y., and a Grove City college graduate. The 35-year-old grid tutor went to Har-Brack in 1942 as an assistant coach and was named head man the next year.

Those who have seen the Big Green in action have nothing but praise for one of the smoothest working, most polished high school teams in the area. Har-Brack in running up five straight wins over WPIAL foes has not met a team of the caliber of New Castle nor have the Bridenbaughs met a team with the ability and finesse of the Friday night challengers.

Use T-Formation
Har-Brack operates out of a "T" formation. The team is no exception in size but is large enough to take care of itself well.

"T" quarterback Mattioli is a master at reception and throws passes, long or short, with accuracy to a pair of good receivers, Grove and Cryzer.

The outstanding back on the team is Frank Stanowski left halfback and breakaway runner extraordinary. This boy is capable of

Universal Golfers End Season's Play At Sylvan Heights

Banquet Will Be Held On November 19 To Celebrate Successful Season

Universal-Rundle Golfers rang down the curtain on the 1949 golf season with a field day at Sylvan Heights, Sunday, when a number of interesting events were run off. Eddie Gunther was medalist for the day's play with a neat 77, and Mike Joseph honors at the other end of the scoring system with the highest score.

Other events and their winners included: the following closest to pin on No. 8 hole, Dan Carroll; in circle on No. 5, Herb Ridgely; closest to pin on No. 16, W. E. Jones; longest drive on No. 9, Ollie West; runner up for medal honors, Frank Platek, 81; blind bogey winner, Frank Platek.

The season's highlights will be reshaped at the annual banquet for the golfers on November 19, after which the men will be looking forward to next season's play.

Ezzard Charles Wins Exhibition Contest

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Utah's pride, Rex Layne, climbed into the ring last night at Salt Lake City with N.B.A. heavyweight Champ Ezzard Charles and about all he got was a bloody nose and a boxing lesson.

Charles' appearance in the Fairground Coliseum was the first of a series of exhibitions. From Salt Lake City he goes to Los Angeles. Layne was almost even with Charles on the weight, at 186 to the champion's 188, and he tried hard with the pillow-weight gloves, but was unable to land a solid punch.

COUNTY MEN ON TITAN SQUAD—Pictured here are four Lawrence county young men who are members of the Westminster Titan football team this year. Seven Undefeated, Untied College Teams In State

By TROY GORDON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Seven undefeated, untied football teams top the list of Pennsylvania colleges today.

A hard week end dropped six schools from among those with perfect records. Allegheny, which was tied, and Villanova, Gettysburg, Slippery Rock, Bucknell and the National Aggie fell from the select group.

Two of the all-victorious outfits haven't even been scored on. Clarion has piled up 142 points and St. Vincent's 94 while holding their opponents scoreless in four contests apiece.

Pitt and Penn, of course, the state's hopes for national recognition. They meet in Philadelphia shortly in an attraction which should decide the Pennsylvania championship.

Four teams, Wilkes, Kutztown, Carnegie Tech and Allegheny, have only single ties marring their records.

Villanova Dumped

The biggest upset of the week was Tulsa's 21 to 19 surprise of Villanova in Philadelphia Friday night. The Wildcats still are trying to explain that one, but the chances are they never will.

Pitt tried hard to lose, but managed to outscore Miami of Ohio 35 to 26 in a thriller in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Penn was alone among the major squads in the state to come through in good shape. The Quakers beat Columbia 27 to 7 in the City of Brotherly Love Saturday.

Clarion blanked Thiel 21 to 0 and St. Vincent's shut out Geneva 19 to 0.

Dukes Impressive
Penn State continued its climb in the state standings, clipping Nebraska 22 to 7 and State College to pull even for the year at two and two after a poor start.

Duquesne turned in the most impressive intersectional victory, a 40 to 14 triumph over Holy Cross. Four schools have nothing but defeats marked up against them: Alliance, Mansfield, Edinboro and Lock Haven.

Michigan State's football team averages 196 pounds per man, with the seven linemen averaging 196 and the four backs also chipping in for an average weight of 196 pounds.

Onslow May Know Fate Wednesday

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Jack Onslow's future as manager-in-good standing of the Chicago White Sox may come to light tomorrow.

Sox vice president Charles Comiskey said the present schedule on things to come for the southsiders calls for such an announcement at that time but added he couldn't be positive.

Onslow, who succeeded Ted Lyons as pilot of the Chicago club before the opening of the 1949 season and guided them to sixth place in the standings, has a contract which runs through 1950.

Although the pale hose moved up from the cellar, much dissatisfaction has been voiced with their showing during the recent campaign. And there has been almost a constant feud between Onslow and general manager Joe Frank Lane, who is said to have four more years to go on his contract. Both came to the Sox after last season.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

THREE hundred cock pheasants were released by Game Protector Calvin Hooper in various parts of Lawrence county today, which will be appreciated by bird hunters. Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association nominating committee will be named tonight in the Ecclesian club. Nick Casillo, local educator and writer on Outdoors, has a nice story about Eels in the current edition of the Pennsylvania Angler. One week from tomorrow night, fisticuffs will feature in The Arena, the main bout being between Chuck Higgins of Youngstown, a protégé of Dick Mette and Johnny Locisano, and Eddie O'Neil, of Detroit. In addition to this punch fete, Frankie Moran of New Castle, will fight Bobby Brown, also of Detroit. City police force battles Tommy Yaroszb, Bob Baker, who boxed in The Arena takes on Pedro Bradley, Cleveland, and Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, now a protégé of Fritz Zivic, fights Don Alderson, at Duquesne Gardens, Pittsburgh, tonight. Organized sportsmen are at odds with the Fish commission on the question of stocking fish near privately-owned sections of streams. At the recent Harrisburg meeting of the State federation, the latter adopted a resolution demanding the commission "adopt a policy that will permit the stocking of any portion of any stream where the pressure created by public fishing requires it." The resolution resulted from the commission's refusal to stock a 3.8 mile long section of Mud Run in Hickory Run State park, Carbon county. Delegates questioned the commission's inaction despite the fact that the stream is bounded on both sides by privately-owned posted land.

An Alaskan road-house keeper named Ludington, was recently mauled by a bear. He was hospitalized and surgeons had to insert 200 stitches to close his wounds. The bear got him down when his gun failed to fire. Bruin was dragging him by a leg when the hunter finally got a shell into his gun and killed the bear. Two of the best Notre Dame fullbacks in the history of the school are now with Detroit Lions. They are Johnny Panelli and Jim Mello. Cloyde and Boyce Box are pros. The former is a recruit halfback with Detroit Lions and Boyce plays baseball. Among Frankie Moran's staunchest supporters is Billy Frengel, erstwhile lightweight boxer. Fans are yet talking of the recent tag match staged in The Arena. Bob Hanna is ill at his home. Despite some grueling battles in the Jolly bowl, Frankie Lands emerged practically with no scars to show for his pugilistic efforts. One of the casualties of the recent wrestling matches was Mickie Solomon, one of two referees. One of the grapplers is alleged to have stepped upon, and fractured one of Mickie's toes. George Barrett, after a long time away from a stream, enjoyed a day's fishing recently. He is a retired mail-carrier, whose hobby is fishing. Leon Johnson is looking forward to the months when he will loll in the Florida sunshine. Johnny McKibben, the W W I vet, is one of the prime movers in the P. 28th Society. Luckman Through, Lujack Successor

Young Johnny Lujack Surplants Luckman As Star Of Chicago Bears Offensive Attack

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Sid Luckman may be the greatest T-formation quarterback of all time just as coach George Halas claims but the one-time Columbia passing wizard is no longer Mr. Quarterback of the Chicago Bears.

This is Luckman's eleventh year with Pappa Bear Halas' professional football behemoths of the midwest and probably his last. Young Johnny Lujack is now the number one man in the offensive operations.

Luckman Through

It's sometimes hard for an athlete to realize he's no longer the man he once was. But Luckman must have known it in Sunday's game against the champion Philadelphia Eagles.

That was an important game for the Bears and in important games the strongest lineups is always needed. Lujack not only started at quarterback but played the entire contest on offense. Luckman sat on the bench for the first time in his football career.

He watched his successor complete 16 of 27 passes for 253 yards and lead the Bears to a 38 to 21 triumph. He watched his teammates shower their praise upon Lujack. Only a little while ago all this praise was for him.

Louis Will Appear At Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—(INS)—Ohio Sporting Enterprises announced today that Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, will appear in Columbus in a four-round exhibition November 1.

Jerry Weiner, matchmaker for the newly-formed ring promotional group, said no opponent has been picked for the ex-champ, but that "Louis told us he'd appear against anybody we named."

CROSSIN SIGNS WITH WARRIORS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Francis (Chink) Crossin, former Penn and Luzerne, Pa., basketball star, has signed to play a third season with the Philadelphia Warriors.

General Manager Pete Tyrrell announced today that Crossin had changed his mind about hanging up his basketball shoes in favor of a full-time job with a television station.

Minnesota Will Accept Bowl Bid

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Frank McCormick, Minnesota's athletic director, spiked reports that the Gophers will snub a Rose Bowl invitation—if, as and when—during a talk before the Chicago Quarterback club.

McCormick addressed the Quarterbacks yesterday and said: "Minnesota is opposed to all post-season games. However, Minnesota is a member of the Western conference and since the majority favors the Rose Bowl contract, we will play there if asked."

Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, also a Quarterback guest, explained his team's 46-7 win over Tulane last Saturday with: "Tulane seemed to be having an off day."

Parker Signs Pro Contract

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Frankie Parker today is an official member of Bobby Riggs' professional tennis family.

Parker signed a contract with Promoter Riggs yesterday that will net him $26,000 for his first year as a pro.

The 33-year-old Los Angeles net star joins the troupe headed by Pancho Gonzales and Jack Kramer.

Frankie will play Pancho Segura when the group opens its national tour at Madison Square Garden, Oct. 25.

He originally was scheduled to sign last week, but refrained in order to receive a national ranking as an amateur this year.

Geneva Prepares To Meet Lock Haven

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 18.—The Geneva College gridgers, smarting from a 19-0, lacing at the hands of unbeaten St. Vincent, are working hard in preparation for Saturday night's home contest with Lock Haven.

In preparing for the Lock Haven game, Coach Walt West has scheduled an intensive week's work, stressing pass defense and improvement of the Geneva offensive attack.

Their victory streak stopped, the Covenanters face the pleasant possibility of finishing the season with a fine record. With the campaign half completed, they show three wins, one loss and one tie.

Court House

Court Continues Into Second Week

New Panel Of Jurors Report For Duty—One Case Held Over From Last Week

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

October civil court carried over into its second week with a new panel of jurors called for this week's work.

The case against the Medusa Portland Cement company, which is defending against a suit claiming the walls of a home were injured by blasting continued in Number One Court room, a hang over from last week.

In Court Room Number 2, two cases came to trial, in which Harold V. Rough sues Clair M. Drushel for the death of his wife. Mr. Rough files one suit as administrator of the estate of his late wife and one in his own right. He sets out that Mrs. Rough was riding in the car of the defendant on the morning of July 25, 1948, when the car upset on the Portersville-Elwood City road, killing her almost instantly.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Ladies will be webby-footed this fall—in a ducky new shoe fashion.

Lace slippers for evening wear introduced in New York today, will be practical as well as pretty: designed for easy dyeing to match the popular new lace dresses.

Herman Deiman, designer of the "after-five" shoes, has covered gold or silver kid footwear with a cobwebby film of cotton lace which can be dipped in a variety of shades.

The shoes themselves are styled in sling pump, sandal and ankle-strap models to fit all forms of formality.

So "shot-laces", once in the casual class, have advanced to the "classy" class this year.

Rotarians Have Songfest Monday

Club Members Enjoy Pep Singing And Stunts At Luncheon Meeting

New Castle Rotary club members had an old-fashioned pep singing period at their luncheon meeting Monday, when they were led by Percy P. MacNab, of Hollywood, former local Rotarian.

Mr. MacNab had the words of a number of old favorites flashed on a screen, enabling everyone to sing the words, instead of mungling them, and some competitive quartets were formed, with DeLace Cole's whizzers winning first prize. Dr. Arthur N. Foster won a beautiful necktie for his long-winded efforts in the balloon bursting contest.

The event proved an enjoyable diversion from the usual form of programs, which will find them back in stride for a serious meeting next week, when a topic of business interest will be presented. Members of other service clubs will join with them.

DR. ARTHUR FOSTER TO TALK AT WALMO

Dr. Arthur Foster will speak on Pennsylvania at a meeting of the Walmo PTA at the Walmo school Wednesday evening, October 19, at 8 o'clock.

Special music will also be on the program for the evening.

Plan Volunteer Naval Reserve Unit

Component Unit Will Be Formed At Meeting Here Wednesday Evening

Last Friday evening Lt. Cdr. Hamilton, of the Fourth Naval district, discussed the desirability of forming a Naval Reserve component unit in New Castle. This unit will be open to both enlisted personnel and officers provided they are not associated with another naval organized training unit.

The Naval Reservists joining this unit, by attending scheduled meetings, will be kept abreast of the navy as it is today. Additional training will be obtainable. This training will enable the reservists to earn points necessary for retirement pay and future promotions.

Those Naval Reservists present at the meeting last Friday night realized the advantages of forming a unit and set Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m. October 19 at The Castleton hotel for the next meeting, at which time the unit will be formally organized. All Naval Reservists are invited to attend.

DES MOINES, Oct. 18.—(INS)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was announced Monday as the principal speaker at the 1949 convention of the National Association of Radio Directors next month in New York.

He will speak at the convention banquet Nov. 12, and will answer questions in an unusual "on the record" news conference.

Jack Shelley of WHO in Des Moines, convention program chairman, said at least one network is reportedly planning to record the entire question-and-answer period. Seymour Berkson, general manager of International News Service, aided NARND in making arrangements for Bradley's address. Edward R. Murrow, veteran foreign correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System, will be the other featured speaker. The program for the convention includes a tour of the United Nations.
